

Leading by Learning:
Intercultural Competency Training for Language Instructors

How do you as a language instructor navigate intercultural challenges and teach intercultural awareness, knowledge and skills to your language students?

MOSAIC's Intercultural Competency (IC) in Language Teaching:

- Builds and applies knowledge of IC concepts through interactive activities
- Explores power and privilege when working with newcomers and refugee populations
- Provides skills and strategies to work through teacher experiences of challenging IC situations
- Introduces a trauma-informed approach for the classroom (Optional)
- Shares IC lessons and activities that can also be used as PBLA compatible artefacts

The training is available in a variety of formats, to fit your needs, including facilitated online sessions, a face-to-face workshop or a combination of the two.

Feedback we have received from the training includes:

"Content and delivery were great. The discussion was so valuable to share experience and strategies."

"I liked talking about refugees and learning about it, the power that teachers have in the classroom. I don't think of myself as having power in the classroom but I do. I liked the part of mixing genders. I reflected on own experience and applied knowledge."

"The lessons that you showed us were great: there was content that made everyone sit up and take note."

"It was overall a well-designed training production! Glad I was offered to take this course. Thank you, MOSAIC ICT team!"

"Fantastic group activities. Great facilitator."

This training is presented by Taslim Damji, certified Intercultural Practitioner and core developer and facilitator of MOSAIC's specialized Intercultural Competency (IC) training programs. Taslim does well received trainings with a wide range of clients in a variety of sectors including EAL, non-profit and public sectors.
